

I Work At SETI listening for aliens. I think they're listening back

This gives us a "ghost in the machine" possible angle as the aliens subtly make themselves known

What do they want to do?

- compromise humanity's knowledge of them: this specific person has information about them

Key scenes:

- he's all alone at the top of a mountain
- the power goes out, they appear in the pitch black of night
- the second time he tries to be prepared for them, using a torch or something and what he sees is awful

Key line: "It's like I was looking across the stars at them through a telescope, and suddenly started looking back
